International Coastal Clean-up – September

Join the annual global movement to clean up the world's coasts and waterways. Register your own team and encourage others to participate! Try something different and do a clean-up while snorkeling or kayaking.

International Coastal Cleanup day is September 25th, but cleanups may take place on any day that month. Participants in the cleanup fill out a form indicating the number and types of trash found; this data is then compiled with the international database and becomes a valuable resource for conservation efforts.
